Keohokalole, Maui Postmaster, Under Arrest

EMBEZZLEMENT IS CHARGED TO PAIA DEMOCRAT

Postal Inspectors Who Nabbed Him on Coast Say He Has Confessed to Using $1600 to Support Family

MONEY ORDERS SENT TO JAPAN WENT ASTRAY

Complaints From Maui Japanese Started Federal Sleuths on Trail

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
 SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 2.—Postmaster Morris Keohokalole of Paia, Maui, was arrested here today, charged with embezzling funds in the postoffice of which he has charge. Postal inspectors who have been working on the case and who made the arrest and talked with the Maui man afterwards, say that he has confessed to using $1600 to support his family.

Although up to 1 o'clock this afternoon no confirmation of the above despatch relative to the arrest in San Francisco today of Postmaster Morris K. Keohokalole of Paia, Maui, on charges of embezzlement, had been received by the Honolulu Postoffice Inspector.

About 10 days ago the Star-Bulletin received information from a reliable source that Keohokalole was not coming back from San Francisco, and that he was to be arrested by federal officers of the San Francisco postoffice division of which Hawaii is a part. The information was not used, in order not to hamper the efforts of the authorities.

"Keohokalole was supposed to come back on the Manoa next Tuesday," said Inspector Flavin, "but we had not received definite word that he was returning. I will probably get a cable this afternoon if the news of the postmaster's arrest is true." He added that he has been working on the case for the last three or four months, but that as correspondence with the Japanese on Maui whom Keohokalole had defrauded, was slow, the investigation had not been fully completed.

Star-Bulletin Gave First News
 On August 11 the Star-Bulletin published the first story relative to Keohokalole's irregularities concerning money orders issued to Japanese. The day before, August 10, a petition from Japanese Consul-General Rokuro Mori of this city, asking the consul to take up the case with the postoffice inspectors.

Six petitioners sent down their receipts, and declared that the money had never been received in Japan. The dates of the missing orders run back from a few months ago to as far back as July, 1915. The total amount the Paia postmaster is alleged to have stolen is close to $1800.

Keohokalole was one of the Democratic delegates to the national convention of the party in St. Louis this summer. He failed to return to the islands with the others. It is said that his bond as postmaster was signed by prominent Honolulu Democrats at the time he was appointed to the position. From a reliable source this afternoon, it was learned that Keohokalole embezzled the money as follows:

A Japanese would come to the postoffice with say $600, and ask for a money-order for that amount. She postmaster would give him a receipt for $600 but would later make out the required duplicate copy of the order for a smaller sum, and keep the balance. This duplicate would be forwarded the Honolulu postoffice, the only one authorized by Japan to handle money-order exchange. The exchange office here would forward the sum called for in the duplicate, anywhere from $100 to $200.

When the Paia Japanese was notified by the party in Japan to whom he sent the order, that only a small sum had reached Japan, he complained to the postmaster, who would tell him he would write Japan to have the loss investigated. As it would take two months for the reply to return from Japan, Keohokalole would "stall him off" by telling him a mistake had been made and he would take it up further. In this way he stood off the Japanese until he went to the mainland.

MRS. BELLIVEAU WILL MAKE PLEA NEXT SATURDAY

Princess Theresa, Son and Rich Children Before Judge Ashford

Charged with conspiracy in an alleged land fraud case, Mrs. Theresa Belliveau, Robert Wilcox, her son, and Y. Ahn were arraigned before Circuit Judge Ashford this morning to listen to the indictment of the territorial grand jury brought late yesterday afternoon.

Warrants of arrest were served on the three yesterday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock by Harry Lake of the city and county attorney's office, the indictment which was taken from the secret file this morning and read before the court charging that they "did conspire to do what was and was wrong to another" in obtaining the signature to a certain piece of land from one Kauai, an aged Hawaii. The case went over until 9:30 o'clock next Saturday morning, a bond of $3000 to be fixed by 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

Theresa, who is well known in the city as the owner of the Princess' auto stand at the golf lot on King street, talked freely to a representative of the Star-Bulletin this morning, but declared emphatically that she did not know of any crime she had committed for which she should be brought before the court of justice.

"Lake came down and served the papers on us yesterday afternoon," she said, "and it was all a surprise to me. Mrs. Hummel is back of all of this. She wants to get old man Kauai's land."

Theresa said her son has been taking care of the old Hawaiian for some time, tending him and giving him food, clothes and furniture, but she says there has been no conspiracy that she knows anything about. Attorney Carden refused to discuss the case to any extent today following the arraignment. He said the prosecution had not been working on it very long previous to the arrest yesterday, and that the prosecution's side in it will be presented in due time at the trial.

 QUEEN LILIUOKalani's MESSAGE TO HAWAII GIVEN TO STAR-BULLETIN

My heart is glad today for the kind attentions shown on the date of my birth by my people and my friends. I send out to them my sincere thanks and appreciation and wish them all well in our happy land. May love, prosperity and peace be with them always!

GOVERNOR PINKHAM CONGRATULATES QUEEN

Executive Chamber, Sept. 2, 1916.
 Your Majesty: Once more I beg to tender to Your Majesty my felicitations on your birthday, and to thank our Creator for his kindness in granting you a past year of health and happiness, and praying he may vouchsafe the coming year shall be equally happy in health and friends, and that you may be often seen in public and private by your people. I regret I am unable to appear before you this morning. My representatives will convey my good will. May sunshine and gladness fill your heart this and all days!
 LUCIUS E. PINKHAM, Governor of Hawaii.

Washington Place Picturesque With Old-Time and Modern Hawaii as Friends and Officials Call

"God save the Queen!" Her Majesty, Queen Liliuokalani, of Hawaii, is 78 years old today and all Hawaii rejoices.

With two less than four-score of snowless winters down in her life's book the queen is today greeting the many old friends who bring their love, and sitting in state as officials paying respect.

Cheerful, bright-eyed and healthful, the queen has been hostess today at her home, Washington Place, on Beretania street, and the halls have been crowded with her visitors since drybreak, when many of her oldest and most intimate friends arrived with their congratulations and to spend the day.

On foot, in carriage and car they came, in spite of the absence of any formal announcement of reception, bearing magnificent bouquets and presents of many kinds. To all she gave a smile, her hand and often a pleasant word of appreciation and thanks.

Due to the queen's advanced age and the possible results of a formal reception, which has been the custom each year, no announcement was

DENNY MARKHAM SIGNS TO PLAY WITH ATHLETICS

Honolulu Boy Will Don Uniform on Connie Mack's Team This Year

Denny Markham, at present catcher for the Chinese Travelers, has joined the Philadelphia Athletics. While playing in one of the games with the Travelers, a scout saw the Honolulu boy in action and signed him up for the fall-enders.

Markham has been playing great ball in the series with the Chinese Travelers, and his hitting has greatly improved. He was one of the leading catchers in Hawaii when he played here, and was picked by many for a place on the all-star team published in the Star-Bulletin.

A letter to Sam Hop from the Travelers' backstop gives the good news to the baseball fans of Honolulu. Markham reports that the Travelers are playing good ball, and the team has been showing the way to many of the Eastern teams during the past month.

Denny Markham is an allround star, and has played a great game at third base and behind the bat. He has a great throwing arm, is fast, and is always in the game. Markham was known as one of the thinking players who have made good here. He is the son of Ex-Supervisor John Markham.

VOLLMER ENTERS 220-YARD SWIM AGAINST FIELD

Cable From New York Gives National Champion Permission to Meet Duke

Herbert Vollmer will compete in the 220 yard Hawaiian championship this evening. A cable from F. W. Rubien, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, to W. T. Rawlins, president of the Hawaiian branch of the A. A. U., received this morning says: "Do not refuse permission."

Upon receipt of the cable from New York, Vollmer was asked if he would compete. The national 200 yard champion replied: "Of course I will compete. I will be pleased to enter, and would have announced it sooner, had my club seen fit to release me from the arrangement made before we left the East."

"I appreciate that Duke P. Kahana-moku is a great swimmer, and it was not because I feared the competition, but I wanted to live up to the wishes of the New York Athletic Club. Now that they have consented I will enter, and do my best to retain the honors won earlier in the year."

When seen today Duke Kahana-moku said: "I am glad that the news has come that Vollmer will enter. Many people around Honolulu were blaming the boys. It wasn't their fault at all, as can be seen now, and it is certainly the really good sports took the matter in the right light. Vollmer

Lihue-Makee Deal Is Closed; Terms Not Made Public

 The sale of the Makee Sugar Company to the Lihue Sugar Company, as reported in the Star-Bulletin, has practically arranged, and has been completed. This was announced today by both George Rodiek and J. F. C. Hagens of H. Hackfeld & Co., although neither would give out any information concerning the amount paid or further details regarding the sale.
 Col. Z. S. Spalding, when seen today, also declined to give out any details, simply stating that while he is active in managing Makee plantation, he does not own any of the stock and therefore does not feel that he should say anything concerning the sale, except that it has been made.

House Bill's Progress Lifts Walkout Crisis

Union Leaders Declare Order Will Be Rescinded as Soon as House Bill Unamended Becomes Law; Republicans Take Political Opportunity

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 2.—Indications are so unmistakable that the nation-wide railroad strike has been averted that the railroads throughout the country have revoked their embargoes on freight and ceased to warn passengers against possible delays, and have abandoned their preparations to meet a strike. They are discontinuing their employment of strike-breakers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—A. B. Garretson, head of the Order of Railway Conductors, made this statement today:

"Just as soon as the house bill, unamended, becomes law, the strike order will be recalled." Republicans of the senate during the debate on the Newlands senate bill this morning took advantage of their opportunities to charge politics to the administration in its plan of settlement by legislation. Senator Sherman of Illinois assailed the efforts of the brotherhoods to prevent the passage of a compulsory arbitration law and charged the president with making a "petty political bargain" on the eve of election.

Senator Thomas Stead of South Dakota, Senator Porter J. McCumber of North Dakota and Senator F. B. Brandegee of Connecticut opposed the senate bill. Senator Paul O. Hastings of Wisconsin, Democrat, urged that the senate take speedy action to prevent a repetition of the crisis.

ARRAIGN THREE IN COURT UPON MURDER CHARGES

Two Men and One Woman Must Stand Trial for Their Lives in Court

Under indictments by the territorial grand jury for murder in the first degree, two men and one woman stood in turn before Circuit Judge Clarence W. Ashford this morning. Only one plea—that of Tateishi, who declared that he was not guilty of the charge—was taken. The other two pleas were deferred until next week.

On indictment was read this morning to Elena Rojas, the being no interpreter in the court who could translate in her dialect. Her case was postponed until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. She is charged with murder.

Likewise the pea of Gregorio Endoso, charged with first degree murder, will be heard later, the date set being September 16. Attorneys agreed to the postponement in both cases.

Misawa, a Japanese, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, pleaded not guilty and was taken in custody to await trial.

Segundo, under a similar charge, did not appear in court, his attorney stating that the defendant had not been informed that the trial was to come up this morning.

JAPANESE EMIGRATING IN LARGE NUMBERS TO SO. AMERICA, AUSTRALIA

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 2.—Japanese are emigrating in large numbers to South America, one ship carrying more than a thousand, according to an American consular report made public today. This report quotes the Tokio Advertiser as saying: "There is increased emigration also to Australia since the gentlemen's agreement went into effect."

REVOLUTION IN GREECE SAID TO BE SPREADING FAST WITH CONSTANTINE LOSING POWER

NEWLY-FORMED GREEK COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL DEFENSE PROCLAIMS PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT IN MACEDONIA—RUSSIANS SMASH WAY TOWARD LEMBERG—FIGHTING HOT IN TRANSYLVANIA

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
 ROME, Italy, Sept. 2.—Revolution in Greece and is reported in despatches here to be spreading fast.

Martial law is said to have been proclaimed in Athens, so violent have the disorders become and so loud are the agitators against the course of the government in maintaining neutrality. Martial law has been proclaimed also in Piræus and other cities.

King Constantine, who is reported to be on the verge of abdication, is sick and does not appear in public. He is said to be much shaken by the turn of events.

Constantine Insists on Waiting Game

LONDON, England, Sept. 2.—Greek despatches say that, after a two hours' conference with King Constantine in his chamber this morning, Alexander Zaimis, the premier, said that Greece would maintain a policy of neutrality toward the Entente group of powers, awaiting events.

Meanwhile the outbreaks against the government continue and in Greek Macedonia, where the revolt is well under way, the newly-formed "Greek committee of national defense" has proclaimed a provisional government. This committee has taken over the government, military and civil, of cities and towns in this section.

Russians Gather Power in Galicia

PETROGRAD, Russia, Sept. 2.—The new Russian offensive campaign in Galicia has resulted in further advances in the direction of Lemberg. Farther south, near the Hungarian frontier, the Slavs are also driving their way forward. Here the Austrians have attempted to offer a resistance but their troops attacks have been repulsed.

Fighting Lively on West Front

LONDON, England, Sept. 2.—On the west today the British troops drove the enemy from a small area intersected with trenches northwest of Delville.

PARIS, France, Sept. 2.—Attacking the French positions repeatedly today the Germans have reoccupied part of the trenches recently taken by the French south of Estrees.

Transylvania Towns Rumania's Goal

BERLIN, Germany, Sept. 2.—The Austro-Hungarians have repulsed the Rumanians near Orsova and Hercules Furiceo, on the Hungarian side of the Transylvanian Alps.

The Austro-Hungarians have evacuated the Transylvanian towns of Hermannstadt and Sepsizent-Gyorgy.

On the western front, in France, fighting is lively along the Somme line.

GERMAN OFFICIAL CABLEGRAMS

GERMAN HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 1.—British are active north of Somme, besides isolated hand grenade attacks and strong artillery display. French intentions of attack between Maurepas and Clercy were frustrated by our fire. German counter-attack regained formerly lost terrain near Longueval and near Delville wood.

South of Somme, French attacks started, which were evidenced by preparation during the last few days. The enemy's principal thrust was on the fronts of Barleux and Soyecourt. Resolute counter attacks of Saxon regiments rapidly terminated progress of the enemy, which was driven back to their own positions.

Further enemy's troops, prepared for an attack, held in trenches. Connecting fronts show lively fire and patrol activity.

In Somme sector, six hostile aeroplanes were shot down in an air combat, another near Meuse, another by aircraft fire east of Ypres.

Prince Leopold's front on East: From the sea until the district west of Luck, the situation is generally unchanged. Southwest of Luck, Russians succeeded in gaining terrain, but were driven back again under heavy losses by German counter-attack. Two officers and 416 men remain in our hands. Fresh forces attacked this morning and were repulsed. Russian artillery fire visibly increased between railroads from Dredy and Tarnopol.

On southern pass road, the enemy attack, gaining advantage near Sebrov on small front, but was partly repulsed by counter attacks of German troops.

sector, Russian attacks broke down before our front. Further southwestward our troops somewhat given way to enemy's pressure. South of Dniester, brave Prussian regiments broke Russian storm in the sector of Stanislau.

In the Carpathians, enemy's separate attacks against Stepanaki and southeastward remained fruitless. Southwest of Shiponk, east Prussian regiments maintained without exception positions against superior enemy's efforts. Serbian attacks broke down on Czegans, Planina and Moglenic front.
